

In touch with customers. In touch with success.

Shape your future...

...at ifm-group, a global leader in developing industrial automation technology with operations in more than 70 countries. Join our engineering teams and be a part of innovative product development for opening doors and moving cranes, protecting people and controlling the reliable production of many different companies.

For our software development in Pune, India we are searching for you as a

Senior Software Developer User Interface - Qt / C++

Your task as an expert in your discipline

- Developing the software architecture and software components together with other team members
- Implementation of a user interface based on Qt / C++ for different operating systems
- Developing and improving the software together with the product management
- Working in a team spread over multiple geographies

Your profile

- Master's Degree / Post-Graduate Diploma in information technology or equivalent
- Extensive experience in developing graphical user programs
- Very good knowledge of modern software architectures, in particular multi-layer distributed architectures
- Very good knowledge of software design (OOA, OOD, patterns) and UML
- Very good knowledge of the programming language C ++and the UI framework Qt
- Systematic, analytical and goal-oriented way of working
- Minimum experience: 3 years
- Fluent in English (spoken and written)
- Basic German (spoken and written)
- Willingness to travel and staying in Germany for several weeks

Our offer

As a pioneer in developing 3D camera systems and with a growing turnover exceeding 663 million euros in 2014, we offer you challenging roles and responsible positions within our global software development team, located in Pune, India.

Are you a confident and dynamic person who is embracing innovative thoughts and able to work in teams at home and abroad?

Apply now – We look forward to hearing from you!

Survey No. 1/10/16, 3rd floor, Above SBI,
Bavdhan Branch, N.D.A. Road, Bavdhan, Pune,
India – 411021
Phone: +91-20-22951910 / +91 20 22951911
E-mail: careersiepl@ifm.com

ifm – close to you!